Why Partner with RPIC?

The Real Property Institute of Canada (RPIC) believes that federal property professionals are more than technical experts; they are strategic partners and critical enablers who advance broader socio-economic objectives in delivering programs and services to Canadians. In a rapidly changing and challenging environment, providing quality, relevant, and timely professional development that fosters leadership, knowledge exchange, and lifelong learning has never been more important.

As a champion of federal real property community-building, RPIC creates an environment that fosters the exchange of ideas, experience, and best practices through professional development offerings tailored to the community's evolving needs.

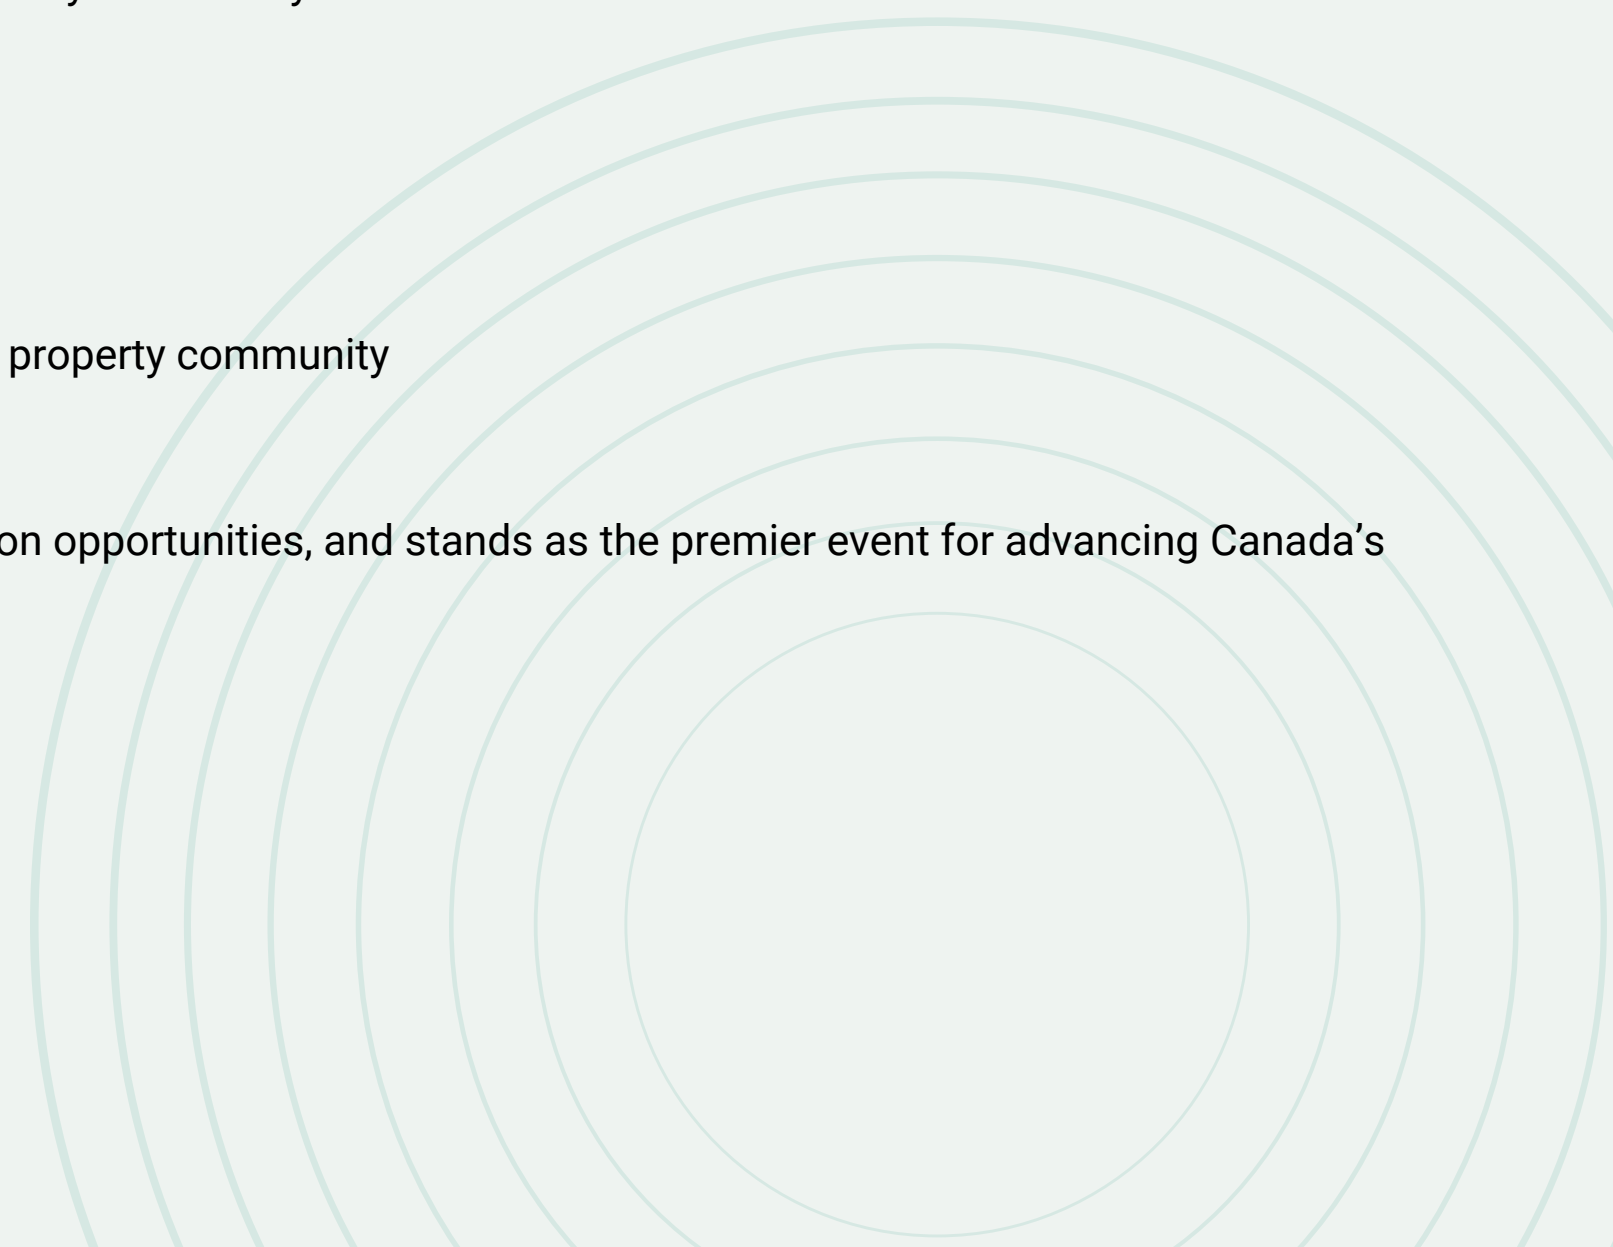

Given that the Comptroller General of Canada recognizes RPIC as a training provider to the federal real property community, we invite you to partner with us in 2026 to access one of the largest networks of federal real property professionals in Canada. RPIC can assist you in shaping the right partnership package to meet your goals and we are committed to amplifying partner leadership and creating meaningful engagement opportunities in support of the real property community.

Our partners gain:

- Unmatched visibility across a national community of government real property professionals
- Access to key decision-makers and senior leaders across public and private sectors
- A platform to showcase expertise, thought leadership, and innovative solutions
- Opportunities to build lasting relationships and strengthen your presence in Canada's public sector real property community

Our program includes:

- A national Summit that unites diverse communities, expertise, fosters valuable partnerships, presentation opportunities, and stands as the premier event for advancing Canada's real property community.
- Professional development (sessions addressing the most pressing issues in real property)
- Executive-level learning and networking opportunities
- Mentoring opportunities that connect emerging leaders with senior experts
- A national Awards and Recognition Program celebrating excellence and innovation

ANNUAL PARTNERSHIPS:

As an annual partner, your organization will enjoy exclusive benefits, including prominent recognition across all RPIC events and communications, with multiple opportunities for visibility throughout the year, including logo placement at the Summit and other RPIC events, enhancing your brand visibility and showcasing your commitment to the professional development of the real property community with key industry and government leaders. Annual partners also receive biannual meetings with representative from RPIC's executive and team leaders.

SUMMIT PARTNERSHIPS

The national RPIC Summit is RPIC's premier annual visibility event, offering the widest audience reach of the year. Summit partnership opportunities are tied to the Summit only and provide event-specific visibility, recognition, and engagement opportunities associated with the Summit, a three-day event bringing together all facets of the federal real property community. As RPIC's flagship event, the Summit will be the must-attend event for federal leaders, decision-makers, technical and functional heads, managers, and delivery groups to come together to learn and build relationships. With over 35 partners and exhibitors and over 800 attendees at previous events, the Summit brings together professionals to discuss the key issues facing the real property community, including:

- innovation and technology
- sustainability
- federal site management
- property development
- workplace strategy
- leadership
- security and sovereignty in Real Property
- contaminated sites

RPIC is pleased to offer a number of options to partner with RPIC. Summit attendees will engage with a wide range of topics that are vital to Real Property, including gaining insights into sustainability, federal site management, property development, leadership, and workplace innovation. The RPIC Summit represents an unparalleled opportunity for professionals to connect, learn, and shape the future of real property.

In 2026, RPIC introduces the partnership opportunity to secure one of four dedicated 45-minute breakout sessions during the Summit. Numbers are very limited.*

RPIC has the right to refuse any and all content. Final presentations/content must be approved by RPIC.*

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT EVENTS

Professional Development Days

RPIC's virtual PD Days attract public and private-sector participants from across Canada, who represent a broad scope of real property disciplines. PD Days offer three to four targeted content streams.

Partner-sponsored Events

In 2026, RPIC is pleased to introduce a new way to partner with RPIC in delivering professional development to Canada's real property community. Through this opportunity, partners may host a tailored learning session with content approved by RPIC. Designed as efficient, high-impact experiences, these sessions would take place over breakfast or lunch at the partner's facility and run for approximately two hours, making it easier for professionals to participate without stepping away from their work for a full day.

With the full support of RPIC, partners gain meaningful visibility with a broad cross-section of real property professionals, showcase their organization's leadership and expertise, and demonstrate their commitment to sector advancement. Participants benefit from high-quality learning at a reduced rate, ensuring accessibility, especially for those with limited training budgets. For the broader real property community, this approach increases regional access, encourages knowledge-sharing, and strengthens collaboration across diverse organizations and disciplines.

Partner Benefits

- Showcase your organization's leadership and expertise in real property
- Connect directly with federal professionals and decision-makers
- Support skills development in the sector, demonstrating public value

Participant Benefits

- Affordable access to relevant, high-quality learning
- Convenient two-hour sessions (e.g., breakfast, midday)
- Opportunities to connect with peers and expand networks

Community Impact

- Facilitate regional access to professional development
- Stronger cross-sector knowledge-sharing and collaboration
- Contributing to a resilient, skilled real property workforce across Canada
